STATE IN WAR ON ALLEGED ILLEGAL COMBINE OF BANKS

CHARGE CONSPIRACY TO HOLD DOWN RATES OF INTEREST

FIND RESOLUTION

Prosecution Started in St. Croix County on Order of Morgan.

Madison—Attack on what he believes to be an illegal combination of banks for the purpose of holding down interest rates on public funds in Wisconsin counties, was opened Friday by Attorney General William J. Morgan, through Tamm H. Ashley, district attorney of St. Croix county.

Prosecution for criminal conspiracy is being started in that county against certain banking institutions which are alleged to have entered a combination which agreed to pay no more than two per cent interest on county money. Conviction would subject officers of the banks to a fine of not more than $500 or imprisonment for not more than one year.

"Restraint of Competition"

Attorney General Morgan says investigation shows comprehensive movements in certain banking centers of the state which are "restraint of competition."

Prosecution of the St. Croix institutions will open the way for actions in other counties where agreements are said to have been made to refuse payment of interest on daily balances of city, village, cheese, cheese factory and creamery accounts, as well as county funds.

Explanation of the general plan of the alleged banking combinations brought to light by investigation of G. F. Clifford, special assistant attorney general, made in the county on recommendation of District Attorney Ashley.

Resolution Bars Plan

The resolution adopted by bankers of that county, which was where the combination was formed, is said to be a "restraint of competition," and the deposit of county funds is recognized.

All the European relief organizations combined are feeding less than 100,000 children.

FORGOTTEN!

It is not believable that, in Janesville there will be a home where this scene is repeated on Christmas morning. Between the response to the calls for workers, and by men and women who reside in neighboring towns and cities, no little boy or girl in all Janesville should be able to say, "Santa didn't come."

DAILY ADJOURNMENT AIDS CHANCES FOR TREATY, IS BELIEF

PUBLIC DISCUSSION TO FAVOR RATIFICATION

MULCAHY SCORES

De Valera Losing Prestige as Army Chief Takes Stand for Pact

(By Associated Press.)

London—The Daily Express's adjournment of further debate on the Irish peace treaty until Jan. 3, although coming as a surprise here, now is considered favorable to the chances for ratification. By agreement between the contending factions, the Daily members will deliver no speeches touching on the treaty during the period of adjournment, nor participate in public meetings at which the treaty is discussed; but it is believed the Irish people will be more ready to accept ratification.

Various agricultural and business associations and civic bodies in Ireland are said to be planning meetings to pass resolutions favoring the treaty, and although it is recognized there will be some declarations against acceptance, it is believed the large majority will support the stand of Arthur Griffith, Michael Collins and their Irish advocates. The adjournment period thus will be nearly equivalent to a popular referendum.

Mulcahy speech, however, corresponds in Dublin emphasized the importance of the speech of Richard Mulcahy, chief of staff of the Irish republican army, in the Daily Thursday in which he advocated acceptance of the treaty. They thought his support, together with that of such

ESTIMATE $170,000 NEEDED TO FINISH NEW HIGH SCHOOL

TOTAL OF LOW BIDS BEATS ARCHITECTS' ESTIMATE BY $50,000

46 BIDS OFFERED

Local Firms Low on Plumbing and Wiring—Need $60,000 More for Work

Bids for the heating, plumbing, electrical, tile, marble and terrazzo work were opened by the building committee of the board of education at 4 p. m. Thursday. This work, which will complete the high school, estimated by Van Ryn and de Gelleke, Milwaukee architects, $170,000 will cost Janesville approximately $120,000 based on the best bids offered for the work.

A total of 46 bids were received. Competition was keen, the board was informed. Should the board of education, meeting at 7:30 p. m. Friday, decide to grant the work to the contractors giving the lowest bids, the following would be given the work:

Electrical—Wisconsin Electric Sales company, Janesville, $28,244.
Plumbing—J. P. Cullen and Son, Janesville, $33,434.
Heating—Paul E. Mueller Co., Milwaukee, $59,905.
Marble—Walter Salmon Milwaukee, $17,923.
Tile—Stark Marble and Tile Co., Milwaukee, $12,385.
Terrazzo—American Marble and Mosaic Co., Milwaukee, $18,578.

Money Problem Up

It is not believed that the board of education will take final action on the bids at the adjourned special meeting Friday night due to the fact that under the present circumstances with the total sum needed for work on the high school, including architects' fees, exceeding $50,000 the total amount of money raised and provided for the situation is not sufficient to complete the work. The board have the money provided to cover the cost before granting a contract.

Board members expressed disappointment that the bids were not lower. Judging from the competition and the closeness of some of the bids, it is evident that the contractors shaved their prices down to the bone. The situation requires that the board have the money provided to cover the cost before granting a contract.

QUADRUPLE TREATY KILLS ALL CHANCE OF WAR, SAYS JAP

PREMIER LAUDS PACT FOR SAFEGUARDING OF PACIFIC

CHINA IS SCORED

"In Advanced Stage of Decomposition," Says Baron Takahashi

(By Associated Press.)

Paris—Premier Baron Takahashi of Japan, is quoted by the Tokyo correspondent of the newspaper "Bessho" as declaring: "The quadruple pact, which for Japan replaces the Anglo-Japanese alliance, is much wider in bearing, and removes all chances of war."

"I venture to say," he continued, "that the Washington conference has opened a new epoch in the Pacific and the world. I not only believe that the pact will result in making the Japanese people happier, but that it will lighten their burdens, but further, that by reason of the guarantee we obtain, the position of Japan is strengthened in the Far East."

In regard to China, the premier is quoted as saying:

"China is in an advanced stage of decomposition. It will be unpleasant to discuss the position of Japan in relation to China, if, as the result of her anxiety, she does not co-operate with the friendly powers seeking to bring about her unification."

POLICE SEIZE NEW FORD SEDAN HERE

Machine, Apparently Stolen, Taken After Standing in City Several Days

Janesville's police department may receive a perfectly good 1921 Ford sedan for Christmas unless there is a claimant for a car found abandoned on South High street where it had stood for several days. The machine is practically new, the motor number showing it was turned out by the Ford factory less than three months ago, although there are evidences of its having had hard usage.

Working on the almost positive theory that it is a stolen car, police have queried the Ford factory for information as to what dealer it was consigned but have received no reply. Belief that the machine was abandoned here by thieves is based upon a license number on the rear, Wisconsin, 8-2933. Investigation shows this plate was issued to W. Keegan, Stoughton, from an Overland car. Police learned from Mr. Keegan on the telephone that the last one of the license plates from his Overland in September, and immediately sent into Madison for one to replace it.

Authorities are not a loss, however, for the abandoning of the car here. Suspicions were first aroused when police noticed it standing near the Grand hotel throughout the day and all night.

Chicago Kidnaper Bares Old Crimes

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago—Clyde Thompson, whose companion, Carl Gilbert, was shot and killed Thursday night after they had kidnapped and robbed Mrs. James J. Callahan, her daughter and brother, confessed to police Friday that he and his partner had participated in several hold ups, including a Utah train robbery last August and the sudden interruption of a card party at the home of Jacob Lock, a wealthy lawyer last June.

Following the confession, police took into custody Miss Mary Roberts, 23, who is said to have been an intimate acquaintance of the dead robber.

The captured robber also was known as Claude Thomas.

Mrs. Callahan is the wife of "Jimmy" Callahan, former manager of the Chicago White Sox baseball team.

Policemen William McNaughton, learning from the running board of a pursuing car commanded by Mr. Callahan, killed Gilbert and forced Callahan to surrender, after a wild zigzag drive through the streets of the southside, which ended when the Callahan car was wrecked by the robbers in attempting to turn sharply.

In several alleged confessions attributed to Church which he later repudiated, he said that he induced the two salesmen, one at a time, into his home, on the pretense that they had come to see the purchase of the automobile, and that with the aid of companions he murdered them. The alleged confessions did not, distinctly designate his assistants.

Body Is Found

Daugherty's badly mutilated body, his hands linked together by handcuffs and his head crushed, was found under a bridge spanning the Desplaines river in Maywood, Ill. The body of Ausmus was found by police two days later buried under the floor of Church's garage. In the rear of his home, it was mutilated almost beyond recognition.

WHITE CHRISTMAS DOUBTFUL IN EAST

Rain Expected by Weather Bureau; Colder Here, Is Forecast

Washington—Warmer weather with rain promised Friday to destroy hopes of snow for Christmas over the eastern half of the country, excepting in the extreme northern states, where there is snow. It probably will remain for reports to the weather bureau from that territory said no thawing weather was expected between now and Christmas.

Weather bureau officials said that there was a possibility that the rain falling Friday, or forecast for Friday night east of the Mississippi might not be sufficient to melt all of the snow on the ground in many sections, but southward from the Ohio river there was little likelihood of any remaining.

The weather will be colder generally through the eastern half of the country on Christmas Day, the bureau said. This includes Wisconsin.

SCORE ARRESTED IN OMAHA RIOTING

(By Associated Press.)

Police Friday reported they had been unable to find one of the packing house men near one of the packing cars Thursday night or to find any one that might lead to the arrest of the person or persons who killed him.

YOU TELL 'EM

Reporters ask a daily question of five persons. Here's what they say:

TODAY'S QUESTION: How does Christmas business this year compare with former years?

George Sherman, Variety Clothing Co.—"It is like former years. The Christmas business this year has been better than anticipated. It is a case of people not having the money, but they are making it in former years, but the business in dollars and cents is not up to former records."

Max Novak, The Hub Clothing Co.—"Business is exceptionally big this year and better than last year, both in the number of sales and the amount of money involved."

Joseph M. Connors, T. J. Ziegler Clothing Co.—"Business is a little better than last year, but it is much better for the merchants. Last year business was a pitiful state but this year the sales are good and the merchants are making a little profit on each article."

CITY 6TH IN 1920
GOVERNMENT COSTFive Cities Over 10,000 Have Higher Per Capita Cost
Than Janesville.

City operation and maintenance costs in Janesville in 1920 averaged $2.75 per capita, the sixth highest in the state of cities having a population of more than 10,000, according to a bulletin just issued by the state tax commission. The figures do not include state and county taxes nor payments for permanent improvement, disbursements for investments and payments on bonded debt. The per capita cost in Beloit was $2.50.

In Milwaukee, West Allis, Appleton, Madison and Fond du Lac, the per capita cost was higher than in Janesville.

Voters Need Information
Explaining its purpose in getting out such bulletins on public money expenditures, the tax commission says:

The American people are traditionally indifferent to the manner in which the public business is done. In an address before the semi-annual meeting of the Academy of Political Science in New York City, Howard Lee McCall said, "I do not believe that we as a people are greatly interested in either economy or efficiency and, further, unhappily, the most efficient of governments is not necessarily the most popular."

It is well known that in local elections the most likeable fellows are usually chosen for office rather than those most capable of handling the work. This department has always believed that greater numbers of citizens should be actively interested in government affairs and should possess a sufficient knowledge of governmental machinery to judge of the qualifications of the office seekers as compared to the requirements of the office sought. The public must realize that the voters are, in the last analysis, responsible for good or bad government.

Once the interest of a voter is aroused, his first demand should be for facts, not only concerning his own municipality but also of similar ones, by which he may form ideas of how local government should be directed. If comparisons are presented periodically, the interested citizen should have no difficulty in determining an administration are praiseworthy or mediocre—whether the city work has been well or poorly managed.

State Average $27.12
The per capita cost for all cities in the state in 1920 was $27.12, divided as follows: Schools, 49 percent; protection of person and property, 13.4 percent; highway and bridges, 11.9 percent; health and sanitation, 6.3 percent; general government, 6.8 percent; recreation, 3.3 percent; charities, 1.4 percent; libraries, 1.0 percent; unclassified, .3 percent.

In Janesville the total cost of $388,079 was divided as follows: Schools, 45 percent; highway and bridges, 30 percent; protection of person and property, 19 percent; general government, 6 percent; health and sanitation, 4 percent; recreation, 4 percent; charities, .65 percent; unclassified, .03 percent.

11th in 32th Rank
The per capita cost for 1920 in other cities is given as follows: Evansville, $27.75; Edgerton, $25.86; Jefferson, $25.30; Mineral Point, $25.27; Monroe, $27.33; Elkhorn, $33.53; Brodhead, $32.25; Port Dickinson, $28.17; Stoughton, $28.46.

In cities about the size of Janesville the figures for 1920 are: Appleton, $29.88; Eau Claire, $25.61; Fond du Lac, $29.38; Green Bay, $22.27; La Crosse, $26.51; Manitowish, $25.87; Marinette, $24.61; Oshkosh, $22.42; Stevens Point, $17.30; Wausau, $23.15; West Allis, $13.76.

KERENSKY SUPPORT
SOUGHT BY SOVIETTentative Negotiations. Meet
With Little or No Success.

Riga, Latvia—Despite denials by former Premier Kerensky and Russian Soviet officials, it is generally believed in Riga diplomatic circles that the Bolsheviks have been put out recently by Bolshevik representatives and agents of the Russian Social Revolutionary party to sound out the possibility of reaching an agreement for entrance of some of Kerensky's party into the Moscow government.

That these negotiations, so far, have met with little or no success is also generally believed.

A. Tcherno, one of the leaders of Kerensky's party, who is now at Riga, is said to have discussed the matter with Maxim Litvinov, chief of the Soviet diplomatic missions abroad, who was at Riga on an unexplained errand.

Many of the more important social revolutionary leaders remaining in Russia, including some in prison, are known to have sent word last summer to their comrades in exile at Prague, Czechoslovakia, and elsewhere abroad, advising a cessation of inter-revolutionary work and an attempt at reconciliation.

According to one report, the Social Revolutionary party proposed that the Bolsheviks should be admitted to the Bolshevik cabinet in the capacity of Foreign Minister. They also demanded the calling of a constituent assembly.

M. Kerensky, however, in an interview published at Prague where he was staying, issued a general denial of the negotiations, saying: "I must emphatically deny all rumors about alleged negotiations between the Social Revolutionary party and the Bolsheviks for finding means of compromise. Such action would not only be foolish, but criminal. The fate of Bolshevism is more or less clear already, for absolute broadness is inevitable. Russia is already cursed of the ideology of Bolshevism, and we may say that today Russia is only in the hands of a Bolshevik government apparatus but that Bolshevism, as such, does not exist."

SYNOPSIS
Thrown out of a job in his father's livery stable because of failure, George Morton, a homesick wanderer for Old Planter, rich and arrogant. The youth falls in love with Sylvia Planter, and when she falls from her horse, he kisses her. This brings on a fight. Morton leaves, goes to Princeton and determines on a college education. He makes the football team, studies with intense devotion and the aid of a tutor, George Bailey.

"Darned sight more useful to stick to your laundry—it's none too good," said George, looking at the clock. "You've started change of countenance and his quick movement forward. Goodness, angry flush, Wandel's apparent unconcern. In that moment he measured his advance, understood all he had got from Squibs and books, from Betty, from Goodhue, from Princeton; but, although he easily conquered his first impulse to strike, he was not so easily won over. He had heard of the matter because it was confined. As he passed close he heard Lambert whisper:

"Good man!"
But even then Wandel wouldn't let him go, and the music had stopped. And only the undelivered shadows of women's voices reached him. He tried to shake off Wandel who had followed him to the hall. He couldn't. He had heard the music, the chattering crowd to find out what Sylvia had decided.

"Go downstairs, great man," Wandel was whispering, "get a cab, and

FOURTH DEGREE

There was but little doubt in the mind of Thomas Byrnes, superintendent of police in New York city, that Louis Hanter had been murdered for the sake of the money that he was carrying with him at the time. The little Frenchman had been the proprietor of a cafe, and, having lost the banks of America, had the habit of carrying hundreds of dollars in his wallet until the opportunity presented itself of purchasing an international money order.

One morning he was found dead in the vestibule of his home, a .38 caliber bullet through his heart, and his pocketbook missing.

Byrnes had to work upon, for there were no indications whatever of the persons who had committed the crime. The dispatch with which the matter had been handled, and which had been sent to a professional criminal, so Byrnes gave orders that all the pawnshops in New York were to be closely watched, and reports made to him of the pawning of the recovered items.

Investigation of the dozen or more pawnshops followed the week which followed the Hanter shooting, and snowed out but had been seen at the pawnshop by persons who very evidently had no connection with the murder. The single exception was one Michael McGloin, whom the pawnbroker, in identifying by means of his photograph in the rogues' gallery, McGloin's gun had been pawned on the morning after the murder, and while the police had little difficulty in identifying him, McGloin had not a shred of evidence to connect him with the Hanter case, beyond the fact that he had been absent from home on the night of the shooting.

At the time specified, McGloin, sudden and resentful at what he claimed was an illegal detention, walked into the inspector's office, alone. He had been interested in such details, he might have noted that Byrnes was seated so that he could watch the window of his office which looked out upon a corridor, and also keep an eye upon the occupant of the only chair in the room, bolted to the floor in front of the desk. But McGloin wasn't worrying about such trifles. He was there to demand his release, and he told the inspector as in no measured terms.

"That's all right, McGloin," replied Byrnes. "Sit down a minute. I've several things to attend to," and he motioned to the chair, placed so that it too commanded a view of the corridor window. A moment later the office door opened, and a man came in. Byrnes, watching the gunman closely, saw that he was barely able to suppress a start—for the visitor was the pawnbroker with whom McGloin had pledged his revolver. Without saying a word, the pawnbroker crossed the room, laid McGloin's gun on the inspector's desk and walked out.

"Neat little boy," remarked Byrnes, picking up the revolver. "Ever see it before?"

"Never," growled McGloin. "I thought not," was the reply. "It's the gun that Hanter, the Frenchman, was shot with. We've finally got a line on that case, after veering on it for over a month. Found a man who was a witness of the shooting."

At this moment, by a prearranged signal, one of McGloin's partners was moved past the corridor window. "Yes," continued Byrnes, appearing not to notice the gunman's agitation. "and we've also found a man who was present at which the second of the quintet was captured at the window, and two others who have confessed their part in the robbery but who claim that the man who fired the shot was—"

"For God's sake, chief!" cried the half-crazed man in the chair, his nerves shattered by the solitary confinement and the marshaling of evidence under his very eyes. "Stop it! I didn't mean to do it, but—"

"Secure one for the fourth degree," mused Byrnes.

"Tinker Bob" Stories

by Carlyle H. Holcomb

"O King of the Forest," said Silky the monkey, "I saw the fellow who made the tracks, but I can't understand him at all."
"What is there about him that you cannot understand?" asked Tinker Bob.
"Why, it was Jack, the rabbit, he would not have run away when I called for him for Jack is a friend of mine and he knows my voice and I have carried him across streams, and played with his children. He never would have gone away in the bushes if it had been him who came out of the water."
"What did this fellow look like anyway?" asked Tinker Bob. He wanted to know if Silky really had seen someone or just thought he had seen the creature.
Taut, Mrs. Planter gave no sign. Mrs. Alston reached over and tapped his arm with her fan. He paused, holding his breath.

him, just the other side of a clump of bushes. Silky looked through them and saw a movement that set his heart beating for all it was worth. He said to himself, "I'll jump over that bush and get him, and hold him tight, then I will see if I can find out who made those tracks."
Tinker Bob knew what was in Silky's mind and he watched with interest his every move. He made ready to spring as there came another "Thump, thump." He was sure then and he did jump over the bushes right on the back of a girl who would do such things with my eyes open!"
Silky looked over and then sat down to scratch his head. "There is something very strange about this," he said. "But I know now that you are not the fellow. Where do you suppose he can be?"
Saturday—More Tracks Cause Silky to Scratch His Head.

Dinner Stories

She had accepted his embraces without reserve, but every time she seemed to be on the verge of going to sleep. It was most exasperating. Finally he remonstrated.
"So tired?" he demanded peevishly. "Why do you always appear asleep when I kiss you?"
"Why, Harry," she retorted indignantly, "you don't for a minute think I'm the sort of a girl who would do such things with my eyes open!"

The editor in charge of the personal inquiry column opened his seventeenth letter with a groan.
"I have lost three husbands," a lady reader had written confidentially, "and now have the offer of a fourth. Shall I accept him?"
The editor dipped his pen in the ink. That was the last straw. "If you've lost three husbands," he wrote, "I should say you are much too careless to be trusted with a fourth."

Farm Bureau News

MAKE MILK PLANTS COMPLY WITH LAWS

Will Investigate Whether Plants Are Pasteurizing Skim Milk.

An investigation is to be made by the Rock county Farm Bureau and dairymen to determine whether milk plants in the county are fully heeding the law on pasteurization of skim milk that is being taken back by farmers to feed stock. With the county herds being tested for tuberculosis, dairymen are demanding that the condensaries and creameries take full steps to prevent the spread of "T. B." among stock heating milk to at least 140 degrees for 30 minutes. It is declared that some of the plants are merely pretending to comply with the law, infusing a skim hose into the milk vat without taking a proper temperature reading and sufficiently heating all the milk during the required period.

"There is no use having our animals tested and then get infected skim milk back to be fed to the young stock and swine," declared W. J. Douglass. "All plants should be made to comply with the law."

Beloit Poultry Show Set for January 2-8

Beloit will have a poultry show, Jan. 2-8, held by the Beloit Poultry and Pet Stock association. The display will be held in the building at 212 Grand avenue. There will be two classes of entries, one for the exhibition classes and the other on the utility classes. Children cutting demonstrations will take place Jan. 4 by J. B. Hayes, University of Wisconsin agricultural department. The show is going to be along educational lines with the view of creating greater interest of people in poultry. Premium lists for the Beloit show may be obtained from W. C. Shore secretary, George M. Wells will judge the exhibition classes.

Farm Account Books

As the Christmas season approaches, the question of suitable gifts becomes a very important one. It has been said that this year should be made one of practical gifts.

A mother of nine farmer boys in Illinois has solved the gift problem in a very practical way. She recently wrote to the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, ordering six farm account books for her boys. "Can you tell me where I can get a farmers' account book," one in which you can keep accounts of dairy farming, and the business on a dairy farm. I want to give them to my boys for Christmas. I want six of them, as I have five sons on farms for themselves and four at home, and I want them to learn to keep accounts."

Six copies of the Wisconsin Farm Record, a book which has been in use in the Badger state for three years. More than 2,000 copies are used throughout the state today. That its popularity is not confined alone to Wisconsin can be seen from the example just cited of the Illinois mother.

According to J. S. Donald, in

25-pound Turkey Is Worth More Than Hog

A 25-pound turkey is worth in actual cash as much as average 200-pound hog, under present market prices. With eggs at 60 cents a dozen, poultry is one of the best paying propositions.

Other farm produce is being sold at less than production costs. One of the reasons why more farmers are not getting eggs is that their hens are not getting sufficient grain during the winter. More will come from one County Agent R. T. Glasco, Cullin is also necessary for a producing flock.

"Animal protein is absolutely necessary for a hen's ration if she is expected to lay any eggs during the winter. In the summer time she is able to gather this, but in the winter she must be supplied. Tankage and most scraps are animal protein and should form about 20 per cent of the winter flock's rations. Roots and sprouted oats or barley are also excellent for stimulating egg production. By keeping a dry mash before the hens at all times and giving them plenty of exercise by scattering grain in the straw, it is possible for any farmer to get eggs during the winter," reports the county agent.

Form Spraying Rings For Saving Orchards

Charles Damerow, route 25, Beloit, is helping County Agent R. T. Glasco organize the first spray ring in Rock county. Several members have already been secured and as soon as the contracts are printed the Plymouth spray ring will be completed. The Plymouth spray ring is to consist of 10 to 15 farmers, who will own a power sprayer. This machine will be capable of spraying a tree in two minutes. A man trained to do the spraying will be sent to the orchard to another and spray his orchard with the right material at the right time.

The Rock county Farm Bureau is making arrangements to supply the spraying rings with material, at cost. This will be at about one-third of the original retail price. Trees were sprayed three times in Wisconsin county last year at a cost of 30 cents a tree, including labor and spray material. The power sprayers, which are to be purchased under the supervision of Prof. Clifford, horticulture extension specialist, from the college of agriculture, will be the most up-to-date sprayers on the market. These sprayers can be used for whitewashing barns and spraying potatoes. It is estimated that by being used in these different ways the sprayer will save the spray ring members from $25 to $50 a year.

A new stock of Prayer Books, Roman Bibles and other religious articles for Christmas Gifts on sale at St. Joseph's Convent.

charge of farm accounting work in the Badger state University, the coming year is to be characterized by a strenuous "Get-the-Farm-Facts" campaign. It is expected that the present number of books on Wisconsin farms will be doubled.

In one of the central Wisconsin counties work in farm accounting will be given for credit in the rural schools. Three hundred copies of the Farm Account Book are being distributed among the schools in this progressive county. One lesson a week will be devoted to the work. Many of the pupils will keep accounts of home farm.

MILTON H. S. WINS JUDGING CONTEST

Janesville School Team Close Second.—Judged Live Stock on Two Farms.

Milton high school's stock judging team won the sectional contest from teams representing Janesville and Port Atkinson. As a result Milton's team will take part in the state judging contest in Madison March 10 at which time about 20 high school teams of the state will participate for the Wisconsin championship.

Milton finished with a score of 2341 with Janesville close behind totaling 2312 and Port Atkinson with 2022.

Watching high school youths judging stock at the farms of J. A. Craig and J. Z. McFarley was certain evidence that interest in stock farming is not dead. Three teams representing Janesville, Milton and Port Atkinson high schools met in competition Thursday, judging Holstein cattle, for the dairy type, swine and sheep at the Craig farm, and Shorthorn cattle for the beef type, and horses at the McFarley farm.

L. J. Merriman, county agent for Walworth county, was the final judge in the contest and his averages were used as the basis for judging the team winners.

The three teams showed marked ability in selecting and their judgment in picking the Holstein cows was exceptional. Five cows were shown, two high producers and the others capable of making good records. They took careful notes on dairy types and were not far off from the markings of the Walworth county agent. In judging the Hampshire swine, a few made the mistake of selecting for bulk instead of type. H. Parker helped in the judging of the swine after the contestants had finished.

Boys in the Contest. As is true in many judging contests, the best-looking cow is not always the highest producer in the test records.

Those taking part in the contest were as follows: Janesville—A. S. West, coach; Milton—Rice, Robert Campbell, John McArthur, George Arnold, and Everett Howard, substitutes; Milton—R. E. Kellogg, coach; Harry Rumph, Alfred Jones, George Burdick, and Russell O'Connor; Port Atkinson—J. S. Bingham, coach; Harold Downey, Ernest Hartwig, Harold Ralph and Harlow Klemm.

Dairying A Business Declares F. W. Reed

Wisconsin is naturally adapted to dairying, which is a business. Get the so-called business man and dairy farmer get better acquainted.

"The best way to increase production is to allow a fair profit over the cost of production. The success of dairy every business in Wisconsin today is dependent on the success of the dairy farmer," writes F. W. Reed. This expression is also that of the majority of farmers who desire more prosperous county through better agricultural returns.

ROCK COUNTY NEEDS JUDGING PAVILION

To Make Campaign for Judging and Sales Building.

Rock county farmers are going to have a judging pavilion which can be used for county sales in 1922.

Farmers active in the cattle and swine breed associations have united on the demand that a pavilion be built, probably at the fair grounds, which can be used for the judging of stock and also for sales. Half the value of the stock judging during the fair is lost because spectators can not watch the events, nor can the judges give educational lectures to the farmers on paramount breed points.

Rock county will not become a leading center for stock sales until a pavilion is built, such as in Walworth and Waukesha counties. A good pavilion is necessary for fair prices when stock is offered on the auction block.

Comfortable quarters for the buyers means much in dollars and cents to those selling. The judging pavilion would prove of benefit to all farmers in times both during the fair and during the county or private sales. All breed associations and others interested in the pavilion building will be called in for a conference early in January to outline a campaign.

"LIPSTICK" CASE IS NOT TO BE TRIED UNTIL MARCH TERM

Knobel, Ark.—The "lipstick case," which was scheduled in circuit court at Corning, Ark., has been postponed at the suggestion of Acting Circuit Judge M. Futrel, formerly governor of Arkansas, and will not be held until March term of circuit court.

J. N. Moore, attorney for Miss Pearl Pugsley, who is suing for writ of mandamus that she might return to school following her dismissal for using face powder, said today that because there were 250 cases pending in Judge Futrel's court at Harrisburg, which had to be disposed of in the remaining six days of the court term, that the bar of that county would not consent to holding court at Corning to dispose of the "lipstick case."

Judge W. W. Bandy of Paragould was elected to the office of circuit judge of Clay County by a large majority. He will decide the "lipstick case" when it is brought up for trial. Miss Pugsley said that she would appeal the case to the supreme court should she not be given a favorable decision in the circuit court.

Miss Pugsley is contemplating entering school at Corning, pending the trial.

"I want to go to school at any cost," she said. "I realize the need of an education and I shall certainly go to school at Corning if permitted to enter there."

Janesville Takes Hold to Bring State Pin Meet

Janesville is taking firm hold of the campaign to bring the 1922 state bowling tournament with its $75,000 in business and 5,000 men here. The visit of William F. Fenske, state secretary and Assemblyman Frank Hootch, his assistant, to Janesville Thursday pushed the ball along a little further in the efforts of the local association.

During a conference between these men and Leo H. Atwood, acting manager of the Chamber of Commerce, and Frank Sinclair, president of the Janesville bowling association, and Dr. S. F. Richards, Thursday, Mr. Atwood declared that the chamber will accept the work of handling the campaign of sending a delegation to Madison Feb. 6 to bid for the meet. Letters from every business firm in Janesville will flood the office of each of the 21 members of the executive committee of the state association asking that the meet be awarded this city.

Next week, members of the bowling association will start a campaign to send at least 30 teams to boost Janesville's chances. This committee will be chairmanned by Mr. Richards.

With the resumption of forum meetings and luncheons of the Chamber of Commerce early in January, the first of these meetings will be turned over to the state bowling tournament proposition. Mr. Atwood declared that he will make every effort to bring A. L. Langtry, secretary of the American bowling congress to Janesville to speak upon that occasion.

Pin Meet, Janesville, 1922—MAROONS LOOK FOR TITLE BASKET FIVE

Chicago—Two victories for the University of Chicago basketball team in practice games has demonstrated to Coach Nels Morgan and Assistant Coach Mohlander that the Maroons will make a creditable showing in the Western Conference. The poor material has been weeded out and the squad now numbers twenty men.

Pin Meet, Janesville, 1922—COLLEGE DROPS BASEBALL Des Moines, Ia.—Baseball will not be included in the list of sports at Drake University next year because of the lack of interest. The game resulted in a $3,000 loss last spring.

LOCALS TO MEET STRONG FIVE IN GREEN COUNTY

With a clean record so far, Janesville high school's basketball team journeys over to Monticello Friday night to fight the high school team of that place. Practically the same team that represented the local school in their victory over the state school for the deaf at Delavan last week will carry the colors of the Bower city institution.

Monticello is no mean enemy. They made an enviable reputation last year and the dope that trickles through from the Green county town is that almost the same quality as took Monticello and similar schools into camp in 1920 will meet the Blues.

The trip will be made by motor car for the home boys. Train connections were found to be so inadequate that this method was decided upon as a saving of time. It will be a hard voyage over rough country roads.

Janesville has been putting in some heavy hours of practice during the past week. Coach Reynolds' boys look good and a continuation of the speed which they showed at Delavan a week ago will push them along toward a successful season.

Some fear had been felt by Janesville over their possible chances with Madison, but the victory of Edgerton over the capital city squad Wednesday changes the tune a bit. Madison has only one veteran, "Bud" Walsh. The fear now exists at Edgerton where the Janesville lads will try to revenge the defeat in football last season at the hands of the Tobacco city eleven on Jan. 15.

Local Marksmen Still High in National Meet

Compilation of rifle club scores from all parts of the United States shows Janesville's outfit is continuing to hold a high place, with the second team having made advances in the second week of the national indoor shooting match.

The Janesville club holds 11th place in prone shooting, 3d in kneeling, 4th in sitting, and 9th in standing. The club held the same positions in the previous week's national meet, with the exception of in the kneeling event, when it was in second place, having been shoved into third by the Rockford club. This makes the average for the home club of 7th place.

The Janesville second team is now in 18th place in the prone event, instead of 17th, and 6th in sitting instead of 7th, and is maintaining its hold on 6th place in kneeling, and 16th in standing.

Albert Nott continues to be the champion shot of the Janesville rifle club. He was first in all four events of the weekly shoot. Wednesday night, the scores being as follows:

	Prone	Kneeling	Sitting	Standing	Total
Nott	98	83	99	75	355

HERE'S STAR WHO COST THE GIANTS 75,000 SMACKERS

Jimmy O'Connell.

The recent purchase of Jimmy O'Connell, star first sacker and out-felder of the San Francisco Pacific Coast league club, by the Giants is one of the most talked of deals put over in baseball circles in recent years. McGraw paid $75,000 for the star, a record price for a minor leaguer. And this purchase price is now being used as a big argument by the Coast league, International and American associations against recognizing a draft arrangement with the majors.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Entries Pour in to Make Great Pin Meet

By W. F. FENSKÉ

Secretary W. F. F.

The greatest of bowling tournaments is to be held at Madison, from Jan. 23 to Feb. 20, under the auspices of the Wisconsin bowling association, and when the 1000 teams are finally entered the bowlers of Wisconsin will be delighted to know that their efforts to make the show the biggest, has been realized.

Everything is set for a big turnout of Wisconsin bowlers. Every county has been arranged so that the tournament will please the most excellent ten-pin artists. Ten practically new continuous maple drives have been secured at a hundred sets of the finest select tomkins have been in dry storage for several weeks, so that they will be full of life, giving the bowler a chance for record scores when he attends the tournament.

YANKEE PROVES HE'S REAL BULLFIGHTER

Narrow. 11.—A bull fight worthy of the best Spanish tradition took place on a farm near here recently.

Carl Marzoff, the town's doctor, fought for the cheers of a crowd, but for a woman's life. A lonely, pasture hillside was the arena, a pitchfork was the weapon and two or three scared women watched the fight.

Marzoff won. Miss Agatha Welner, a music teacher, had often ventured into the pasture on her father's farm, where the bull was kept, but he had never made any unfriendly overtures. This day he charged. She dodged him among the trees, then ran for the fence, where she fell between a stretch of wire netting and a thorny hedge.

The bull could just reach her. Each time she tried to rise he knifed her back among the thorns. A woman neighbor came with a pitchfork, but was unable to make effective use of it against the bull, who was growling angrily. Marzoff arrived and, fork in hand, climbed the fence. Each time the bull charged, he sidestepped and jabbed. In one of these bouts he drove the fork so deep into the animal that it was jerked from his hands and carried some distance before it worked loose. Finally the bull had enough of it.

Chicago—More than 2,000 Indian and Illinois physicians, in response to a questionnaire, divided almost equally on the value of whiskey as a therapeutic agent, but the majority declared wine and beer were valueless in medicine.

WAR FINANCE BODY MAKES BIG LOANS

$82,000,000 Advanced for Farm Aid Up to December.

(By Associated Press.)
Washington.—The war finance corporation is doing business at the rate of several million dollars a day, according to the annual report of that organization submitted Thursday to congress.
Up to Nov. 30, the date of the report, the corporation sold its advances for agricultural and livestock purposes totaling more than $82,000,000 of which the principal items were loans on cotton aggregating $22,000,000, on grain $16,000,000, livestock $13,000,000 and for general agricultural purposes $31,000,000.
Calling attention to the fact that its powers for financing agricultural credit relief were not broadened until last August, the corporation declared that it had perfected its organization of credit agencies in various sections of the country and by the latter part of October its machinery both in Washington and in the field was complete.
In addition to the agricultural financing advances were reported aggregating $31,500,000 on exports of which the largest items were $25,000,000 on cotton and $11,500,000 on grain.
Summarizing its loans the corporation showed that $52,000,000 had been advanced to co-operative associations, $72,000,000 to banking and financial institutions and $9,000,000 to exporters covering both agricultural and export advances.
Entirely aside from the direct financial aid extended the corporation asserted it was rendering a helpful service from the psychological point of view.

PRESIDENT OBREGON EDITORIAL WRITER

Mexico City.—"Alvaro Obregon" has become a regular editorial writer for the four Spanish-language morning newspapers here and his articles on timely topics have attracted much attention throughout the republic. The Mexican president chose as his first subject "The Freedom of the Press." He gave every assurance in his editorial that freedom of speech and press will be maintained in Mexico. Several days later, "Alvaro Obregon" furnished another editorial, in which he attacked promiscuous syndicalism asserting that this form of solidarity is too often blind following by the masses of a cause with which they are not entirely familiar. The president in no sense criticized unions.

PUSH JUNIOR CLUBS FOR BETTER STOCK

Junior Livestock and Corn Clubs to Be Boosted Next Year.

Rock county has the unique position of having all purebred boys and girls clubs. The pure bred Corn Club with 127 members, under the supervision of J. J. Annot, County J. M. C. A. Secretary, has had a very successful year with 115 boys finishing up the work and a large number of them made exhibits and gave a report of the work.

This amount of pure bred corn in the county should have some result on the quality of the crop next year.

The pure bred pig, calf and sheep clubs are to be pushed the coming season. The Holstein Breeding association back of the movement to increase the number of boys and girls in the calf club. A proposition has been suggested of giving the boys and girls who purchase pure bred Holstein calves a liberal discount.

SIX MORE LEPERS ARE FREE ON PAROLE

Honolulu.—Six more patients at the Kala hospital here have been placed on parole for treatment for the "oldest disease in the world" as the result of having the ailment checked in their cases by the use of the chaulmoogra oil process. Dr. A. J. Dean, president of the University of Hawaii, parole of the patients was granted by the territorial board of health on the recommendation of a committee composed of three physicians expert in the treatment of leprosy. The patients, allowed their freedom because they are not considered a menace to persons with whom they come in contact and because they are, in all respects and purposes, cured must report, however to the hospital at stated periods for examination, in order that their recurrence of the disease may be checked.

as injurious to the best interests of the banks of the county, it kept up it will undoubtedly lead to higher rates of interest being paid year after year, and may lead to an entering wedge for higher rates of interest upon certificates of deposit and savings accounts and will ultimately blossom into something untoward, your committee therefore, recommends adoption of the following resolution:
"Resolved, that during the coming year, all of the banks of St. Croix county, qualify as depositors, for county funds and that one bank of the county sent be designated as a working bank, in which all deposits are to be made by the county treasurer and on which all checks issued by him be drawn; that the county funds be apportioned among all of the banks of the county, based upon capital stock and surplus of each bank, and that the working bank make a bid for all banks for the county funds not to exceed two per cent on a daily balance."

County Refuses Rate.
Following adoption of this resolution, the plan agreed on is said to have been carried out, but on recommendation of District Attorney Ashley, the county board refused to accept the two per cent bid offered by the bank. The board then passed a resolution designating the national bank making the bid, as the county depository, with the rate of interest set at 3 per cent, and the bank refused to accept the proposition.
Request was then made by the district attorney to Attorney General Morgan for an opinion covering the points of law involved in the case.
In his opinion, the attorney general says "You have here a flagrant combination among the county banks to stifle competition and to operate a fraud on the public, by the result of which they hope to receive the use of the county funds at a rate of interest much less than they could hope to obtain them for if each bank honestly and fairly submitted its bid without having entered into an illicit and reprehensible conspiracy."

Urges Prosecution
"It is my opinion that the conduct of the banks in question is not policy, but that it is a criminal conspiracy at common law, and is in violation of the state statutes. I think the matter is of such public interest to the state at large as to justify giving you the utmost cooperation. I feel that you will be performing a distinct public service if you prosecute the guilty parties in this conspiracy vigorously. In a summary example is made in this instance, it is unlikely any other counties of the state will be similarly defrauded."
The attorney general asks that any district attorney in the state who finds a combination of banks report to his office, and every operation will be offered to bring a prosecution.

JEFFERSON SCHOOL'S UNIQUE PROGRAM IS SEEN BY 300 PEOPLE

An elaborate Christmas program was given at the Jefferson school, Thursday night, before an audience of 300 people in the kindergarten room. An impromptu stage had been erected and there were stage managers and other professional adjuncts galore. Jack Whitten was the announcer and a special program was given by the children of each grade.
The mass choruses, especially impressive, were given by the children, grouped in the hall, and a boys' choir, "O, Come, All Ye Faithful," showed considerable musical talent. Cecelia Oestreich and Madeleine Reall gave solo dances. A playlet, "The Shoe-maker and the Elves," by little actors, and a pantomime, "The Night Before Christmas," were well staged. The folk dances of different nationalities were delightfully costumed and given, and the tableau, especially that of Christmas in Norway, were unique and interesting.

Quite a sum was made to add to the moving picture fund with which the building is to purchase a machine.
AMERICANS ARE UNHURT
London.—Several Americans were on the Venice express which collided with the Trieste-Rome express at San Dona, Italy, Wednesday night, but none was hurt, according to the Times Milan correspondent. Five persons were killed and 30 injured in the crash.
DISCUSS WORLD OUTLOOK
World outlook was the subject of a discussion at the weekly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night at the Y. M. C. A. Discussion of phases of foreign work formed the program.

MRS. DELLA KUNZE
Chicago, Ill.

"I understand now why so many people praise Pauline as I have tried myself and it certainly is a wonderful medicine," said Mrs. Della Kunze, 556 Lill Ave., Chicago, valued employee of the Boston Department Store.

Got with so much zest and enjoyment now that my family really joke me about it. A short time ago, however, I had absolutely no appetite and was eating very little. I was losing weight and strength every day and I suffered so much from indigestion and nervousness that I was on the brink of a breakdown.
"There are absolutely no words that can express my delight at the remarkable and immediate results I obtained from Pauline. It benefited me in every way. Instead of being depressed and melancholy, and tired and worn out, I am full of life and energy and cheerful and happy all the time. I've gained twelve pounds in weight too."
Pauline is sold in Janesville by McCue & Busch and leading druggists everywhere.
